ABSTRACT

The utilization of residence hall facilities at all state-operated institutions during the fall of 1974 and 1975 was surveyed as part of the planning and budgeting functions of each institution. Eight tables are presented, giving the following data for each year; (1) summary data which describe the original capacity of the facilities, the reductions to this original capacity, net available space, and actual utilization; (2) more detailed data concerning the types of utilization of net available space, and including student residential use as well as other types of utilization, arrayed in categories; (3) information on the resident student utilization, arrayed by institution, type of accommodation, and rate paid by the students; and (4) data arrayed on the number of resident assistants, number of other resident students, and the ratio of resident students to resident assistants by institution. PREFACE

The Survey of Utilization of Residence Hall Facilities was conducted for the first time by the Central Staff Office of Institutional Research in the Fall of 1974 and again in the Fall of 1975. Details regarding the residence hall program are crucial in the planning and budgeting functions of each institution. While the survey was specifically designed to meet the data requirements of the State University Central Administration Offices of Finance and Business, and University-wide Services and Special Programs, requests for these data have subsequently come from many sectors both inside and outside of the State University.

The study includes all State-operated institutions which have residence hall facilities. Any residence hall facilities available at locally sponsored Community Colleges under the program of the State University of New York are financed in a different manner and are not included in the study.

A study of this complexity could not have been completed without the full cooperation of the institutional respondents, other Central Staff Offices, and the professional, statistical and typing staffs of the Central Staff Office of Institutional Research.

Any suggestions for the improvement of this new study will be seriously considered.

INTRODUCTION

The methodology and definitions used in this study have been developed to be consistent with the University Guidelines for Utilization of Residence Hall Facilities and the State University of New York Policies and Procedures Manual. Definitions of the basic concepts used in this report are provided beginning on page xi.

The four tables of data for Fall 1974 may be described as follows:

Table 1 presents summary data which describe the original capacity of the residence hall facilities, the reductions to this original capacity, net available space and actual utilization.

Table 2 provides more detailed data concerning the types of utilization of net available space depicted in Table 1. Student residential use as well as other types of utilization are arrayed in categories, as described in the column headings.

Table 3 focuses on the resident student utilization summarized on Table 2. Data are arrayed by institution, type of accommodation, and rate paid by the students.

Table 4 arrays data regarding the number of resident assistants, the the number of other resident students and the ratio of resident students to resident assistants by institution.

The same logic follows for tables 5 through 8, which report data for Fall 1975.

SUMMARY OF DATA

In the Fall of 1975, total current utilization of residence hall facilities (headcount) was reported to be 62,025, an increase of 2.2 percent over the previous year (see tables 1 and 5). Of this utilization, 61,232 or 98.7 percent was for student residential use, an increase of 1,901 or 3.2 percent over Fall 1974 (see tables 2 and 6). At the same time, the average number of resident students per Resident Assistant increased slightly from 26 to 26.5 (see tables 4 and 8).

Revenue producing uses of residence halls for purposes other than student occupancy were reduced from a bedcount of 1,351 in Fall 1974 to a bedcount of 800 in Fall 1975 (see tables 2 and 6). This corresponds with the State University's Guidelines which give first priority for utilization of residence halls to the housing needs of students.

Percent utilization of net revenue producing adjusted design capacity increased from 99.7 percent in Fall 1974 to 102.0 percent in Fall 1975 (see tables 1 and 5). A figure in excess of 100 percent exhibits the fact that many State University students were crowded as their numbers exceeded designed facilities available for student use. Notably, the Agricultural and Technical Colleges show net utilization (headcount) of +1,474 or 116.9 percent of net revenue producing adjusted design capacity in Fall 1974 and +1,562 or 117.8 percent in Fall 1975.

DEFINITIONS

Residential Capacity Descriptors

BEDCOUNT--a unit of measure used to describe the capacity of the facility for residential purposes.

ORIGINAL DESIGN CAPACITY--the original residential capacity of the facility (expressed as BEDCOUNT*) as determined by architectural plans.

ADDITIONS TO ORIGINAL DESIGN CAPACITY--permanent conversions of on-campus facilities which increase their residential capacity (expressed as BEDCOUNT).

NON-REVENUE ASSIGNMENTS--Residential Capacity (expressed as BEDCOUNT) exempted from revenue production for special uses such as for RESIDENT ASSISTANTS. These assignments are subject to annual review by Central Administration.

NET REVENUE PRODUCING ADJUSTED DESIGN CAPACITY--the capacity of the facility expressed as BEDCOUNT, available for revenue producing uses. (ORIGINAL DESIGN CAPACITY, less NON-REVENUE ASSIGNMENTS, plus ADDITIONS TO ORIGINAL DESIGN.)

Actual Occupancy/Use Descriptors

HEADCOUNT--a measure of use which is the number of students or other persons occupying the facilities for residential purposes; or if the use of a facility is not residential (e.g. office space), then its use as expressed in terms of HEADCOUNT is the number of students displaced by the use of the facility for other purposes.

STUDENT OCCUPANCY--the HEADCOUNT of enrolled students and their spouses who reside in residence hall facilities. (This excludes RESIDENT ASSISTANTS.)

RESIDENT ASSISTANTS--students assigned to and residing in residence hall facilities for the purpose of peer counseling and betterment of the quality of life within the residence hall complex. The BEDCOUNT of facilities dedicated for RESIDENT ASSISTANT occupancy is exempted wholly or in part from revenue production.

OTHER USES--uses of residence hall facilities for non-residential purposes such as office space or classrooms or for residential use by students from other colleges or special non-student residential occupancy.

*Terms in capital letters are defined elsewhere in the "Definitions".

DEFINITIONS

Utilization Indices

CURRENT UTILIZATION--the total actual utilization (expressed as HEADCOUNT) of an occupied facility's available revenue producing capacity. This is the sum of total STUDENT OCCUPANCY and total OTHER USES.

NET UTILIZATION--the CURRENT UTILIZATION less NET REVENUE PRODUCING ADJUSTED DESIGN CAPACITY. This figure is negative (-) if the facility is underutilized and positive (+) if the facility is overutilized.

[b]If headcount exceeds bedcount the accommodation is over utilized or "crowded". If bedcount exceeds headcount the accommodation is under utilized.

[c]Bedcount of completely unoccupied rooms, suites or apartments.

[d]Includes rooms, suites and apartments.

[e]Other types of accommodations, including septuples and octuples with the appropriate adjusted design capacity bedcount, and space used as sleeping quarters not originally designed for that purpose, such as lounges and study areas where the adjusted design capacity bedcount is zero.

[f]These rooms, while designed as singles, have as much room as designed doubles at this institution, hence the standard rate.

[g]Some beds briefly unoccupied as of census date.
